NEW SCOREBOARD GOES UP—A new $1,500 all-electrical scoreboard is hoisted into place at Reilly Stadium where it will be ready for use this fall for the Quakers' 1954 football season. Funds for the board were raised by the Salem Boosters Club. It will be operated from the press box and can be used as the official timer for the game. The steel stand on which the board is being erected was sold at cost to the Boosters by Lloyd Parker of Save-Way Sales & Mfg. who donated the labor in erecting it. The Salem Concrete gave the concrete for the base and Herron Transfer stored the board for a month and delivered it to the field at no charge to the Boosters. Boosters Club President Tom Pastier expressed appreciation to all persons who contributed funds.

S. Carolina Girl Is Miss Universe

Brazil, Hong Kong Entries Runners-Up

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A freckled daughter of the Confederacy, who has more curves than the Dixie highway, today holds the twin titles of Miss U.S.A. and Miss Universe.

Miriam Stevenson, a 21-year-old college senior from Winnsboro, S.C., last night made the first grand sweep in the three-year history of the international beauty contest.

Runners-up to the winsome Southern lass were Maria Martha Rocha of Brazil, Virginia June Lee of Hong Kong, Regina Ernst of Bremen, Germany, and Ragnhild Claussion of Sweden—in that order.

Miss Stevenson not only was voted the world's most beautiful woman but also got back her luggage lost ever since she arrived here a week ago yesterday.

She said that first of all "I want to thank South Carolina for giving me the opportunity to come here." Then to reporters she said:

"If you all evah come down to South Carolina, I'll cook you the biggest heppin' plate of corn pone, hominy grits an' ham hocks you evah saw."

She said her victory came as a complete surprise to her.

"When I came here I wanted very much to win," she added, "but when I saw all these beautiful girls, I knew I was in for a fight."

Ohio Farmers Vote Against Controls

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Why did Ohio farmers vote heavily against wheat marketing quotas?

Farm experts here were saying today the big reasons are fear crop controls would interrupt the planting cycle in which wheat is used as a rotation crop and—Ohioans just don't like federal controls.

And one obvious reason is that farmers feel they will make more money on their wheat without marketing quotas even if they are guaranteed no more than 50 per cent of parity. A "yes" vote would be a vote for higher supports—75 to 90 per cent—for those staying inside quota restrictions.

Ward McNeill, administrative assistant for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee here, said only 35.1 per cent of 13,459 Ohioans voting favored the controls.

The vote in Ohio was 4,726 in favor of controls; 8,733 against.

VICE PROBE TO OPEN

British Airliner Shot Down By Red MIGs, Survivors Say

HONG KONG (AP)—A big British Skymaster airliner carrying 18 persons was shot down off the Red Chinese island of Hainan yesterday, and Great Britain today instructed its charge d'affaires in Peking to protest the attack. "The two aircraft which attacked the plane could not have come from anywhere else than from Hainan, according to our information from Hong Kong," a London Foreign Office spokesman said.

The Hong Kong government announced earlier that there was "substantial evidence" that two unidentified fighters shot down the airliner.

Eight of the 18 persons aboard the airliner were rescued.

In London, the Foreign Office spokesman said the British government acted on the basis of statements from the pilot and co-pilot of the Skymaster.

He said Charge d'Affaires Humphrey Trevelyan has been instructed to draft a formal protest and it presumably would be delivered to Red China later today.

Hainan which lies about 200 miles southwest of here, is the site of several large Communist military air bases.

Chief Stewardess Iris E. Stobart, of Cathay Pacific Airlines said bullets were removed today from two of the eight survivors picked up by a U.S. Air Force Albatross rescue plane. Two doctors said one man suffered what might have been a bullet wound, but that no bullets were recovered.

J. Thorburn, Hong Kong Bank official whose wife was rescued, said a bullet struck her a glancing blow above the ear.

He quoted her as saying bullets

French Assembly Okays Indo Truce

PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly approved the Indochina cease-fire last night by a sweeping 471-14 vote.

An Assembly resolution, expressing satisfaction at the outcome of the Geneva conference, said the creation of hostilities was "due, in a large measure, to the decisive action" of Premier Pierre Mendes-France.

During debate the Premier clashed with ex-Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, who attacked the Indochina settlement as another Munich — the 1938 agreement paved the way for Nazi aggression.

Bidault had headed the French delegation at the three-month Geneva conference during the early unsuccessful stages of the negotiations. Mendes-France took over the premiership from Joseph Laniel with the pledge he would bring the Indochina war to an end by July 20 or resign.

Atom Bill Gets Speedy House Okay But Senate Talk Marathon Goes On

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration's atomic energy bill raced toward victory in the House early today. But it remained stalled in a still-talking Senate session with no end yet in sight.

Uncorking a marathon meeting of its own, the House wound up 17½ hours of debate — with lots of votes — at 3:14 a.m. EDT by stamping tentative but seemingly decisive approval on the omnibus measure which would revamp the nation's basic atomic energy law.

Then it adjourned till Monday after a parliamentary maneuver by Rep. Murray (D-Tenn.) forced delay of the final formal rollcall vote on the bill.

In the Senate, where there has been plenty of oratory but few votes in a round-the-clock meeting that started Wednesday morning, weary administration supporters were still seeking in vain for an agreement which would move the disputed measure forward along the lines they want.

Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) took the floor at 2:18 a.m. for more hours of speechmaking to criticize what he says would be the bill's "give-away" of a basic national resource to "the private power monopoly."

Morse opened up after Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) had held the floor 5 hours, 12 minutes. Sparkman, another member of a determined band of opponents composed mostly of Democrats, asked a change in the bill to allow a longer government holding period on atomic patents.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, spoke determinedly both to the Senate and in an interview. He said he plans to press Monday his cloture petition to limit debate, unless he gets an earlier agreement to shorten the talkfest — an accord he has been unsuccessful in gaining in repeated attempts so far.

Nor were there indication his cloture move, already introduced with the signatures of 38 GOP senators, was likely to gain the 64-member approval needed to take effect if he presses it to a vote. Most of the 47 Democrats and some Republicans were reported opposed to the cloture attempt.

In the House, where strict debate-limiting rules are the normal course, administration forces held solid sway yesterday and into the wee hours of the morning as they went through the complicated bill.

The measure in general would revise the original 1946 atomic energy law to allow a limited sharing of atomic information with U.S. allies and to let private industry enter the field of peacetime atomic power development.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's wheat growers have voted once again to accept controls on their next year's crop — but the margin was the thinnest ever.

The outcome means the government will continue paying high support prices for wheat — somewhere between 75 and 90 per cent of parity. The rate is not yet decided.

But it also means that in Secretary of Agriculture Benson's own terms, controls on what the support prices for wheat — somewhere between 75 and 90 per cent of parity. The rate is not yet decided.

ADmits KILLING — Victor Lively, 32-year-old roofing salesman, admitted that he strangled 18-year-old Dorothy Poore in an Indianapolis hotel and stuffed her into a dresser drawer.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Victor Lively, 32-year-old Texan who admitted the "dresser-drawer" slaying of a teen-age girl in an Indianapolis hotel, will be returned to the scene of the crime today.

Lively, in a signed statement yesterday, admitted killing 18-year-old Dorothy Poore three hours after he was seized by two St. Louis County deputy sheriffs while walking on a highway.

Deputies said Lively told them he became enraged when the girl protested about his drinking and that he choked her "three or four minutes until she was dead."

The body of the Clinton, Ind., high school graduate was discovered in a dresser drawer at the Claypool Hotel in Indianapolis last Sunday, three days after she was slain. It was clad in bra, panties and slip.

Indianapolis Detective Sgt. Harold Goodman and Randolph Schubert arrived here late last night to return Lively there. He has waived extradition.

The two detectives brought Bruno Widman, 30-year-old Clay-

County Jail Bond Issue To Be Voted On

Without a jail for 15 years, Columbiana County may have a place for prisoners in a few years if the voters decide favorably Nov. 2.

Columbiana County commissioners Friday voted to certify a $250,000 bond issue to build a jail to replace the one razed at Lisbon in 1939.

The structure would be located at the Columbiana County home west of Lisbon or on the old site on N. Market St., Lisbon.

A 55 per cent majority vote is needed for passage. County Auditor I. J. Vondran said the issue, if passed, would raise taxes about 0.2 mills for 10 years. He said on property valued at $5000, taxes would be increased about $1 for the 10-year period.

Voters have rejected several other county jail bond issues.

Columbiana County is the only one of Ohio's 88 counties without a jail. For the past 15 years, prisoners have been kept at Mahoning County jail in Youngstown.

JOHN 15:11 — "These things have I spoken unto you that my joy might be in you, and that your joy might be full."

Christianity is a religion of life, love, hope, and also of happiness — deep, abiding happiness. Here Jesus summarizes all that He had spoken and the sum is fullness of joy.

Christianity is an overcoming religion — life overcomes death. It is a religion of love — love overcomes hate. It is a religion of hope — hope overcomes pessimism. Now life, love, and hope become a great reservoir from which Christian joy bubbles forth.

This joy is so practical. It overcomes the negative destructive forces like "nerves", "fears", and "the long face". Experience teaches that a long face shortens your list of friends. A Christian should be a veritable force of optimism. His smiling face should be a testimony that Christ lives in his heart.

Young (left), Lincoln, Neb., secretary, and Paul Palmquist (second from right), Omaha, treasurer, were to be formally installed later.

Seminary Students
Lead Park Services

Two district theological seminary students are conducting services for tourists visiting national parks and monuments in the West. They are Jerry H. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duher Miller of Salem and Robert B. Schweikart of Alliance.

Both Mr. Miller, who is a member of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, and Mr. Schweikart are participating in the third annual program of the Christian Ministry in the National Parks.

Ninety-two young graduate ministers and seminary students are enrolled in the program, sponsored by the National Council of Churches.

The young students volunteer their time on an expense-paid basis, conducting services out of doors in 17 park areas in 11 states.

Rev. Keister To Speak At Drive-In Service
Rev. George D. Keister, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, will preach Sunday at 8:15 a.m. at the fourth in the series of Drive-In Church services to be conducted by Salem ministers and laymen under auspices of the Salem Ministerial Association.

Last Sunday's service at the Drive-In Theater, at the eastern edge of Salem, was well-attended. Rev. Keister's topic will be "Life's Greatest Find." Miss Betty Moore will sing and lead a hymn.

Confident Living

By DR. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Living Is An Exciting Experience

Is life an exciting experience for you? Are you fascinated by people and by things? Can you honestly characterize yourself as an "agog" person? Have you mastered the art of getting a great thrill out of life no matter how old you are or how heavily burdened?

If your answer to any of these questions is in the negative, you're not getting what you should out of life. It is hard to understand how anyone can be dull or apathetic, living in this dynamic age. How can anyone possible be unmoved and unthrilled by it all. It seems incredible that this amazing world should fail to evoke enthusiastic response in anyone.

I get a great thrill out of going to the circus at least once every year. And this year was the guest of my friend, Beverly Kelly, one of the "big show's" famous publicity men. He is a very busy person and handles a multitude of details. "Beverly," I asked him, "do you enjoy this job? How long have you been at it?"

"Twenty-eight years," he answered. "And, as for enjoying it, it's a lot better than working." That is one of the most thrilling remarks I have ever heard a man make about his job.

RECENTLY Arturo Toscanini, great music master, retired. At 87, he was still conducting orchestras with unsurpassed skill and genius. "Whatever my father is doing," his son explains, "whether it is tackling a new symphony or peeling an orange, it is the biggest moment of his life."

And then there is another old friend, Branch Rickey, head of the Pittsburgh Pirates, now 72. A reporter asked him, "Mr. Rickey, what was your greatest thrill in fifty years of baseball?"

Rickey drew down those great brows of his, thought for a minute, looked out at the players on the field and answered: "My greatest thrill in fifty years? I haven't had it yet."

These are men who are living to their fingertips. They have learned how to keep alive, how to be perpetually thrilled and fascinated. They know the meaning of the greatest formula of living ever spoken, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly."

That's the way we all want to be, isn't it? Why, then, aren't we all that way? And how can we get to be that way?

IT'S A SIMPLE proposition. One reason that the thrill, the zest, the rapture, the fascination, the flavor and the joy of life depart, is because we allow ourselves to become so burdened down, so overwhelmed with a mass of things. An old lady I once knew put it very neatly when she commented, "Life is so daily."

You get up in the morning and go through the routine and infinite minutiae of the day. You worry about things, become plagued by anxieties and dwell under a haunting sense of frustration. That's the unhappy way many of us live, and of course this is depressing and completely unexciting.

But there are people who don't get that way. They seem to have a constant infusion of energy and burdens easily. What is their secret?

I have known many such people. They find their insatiable curiosity, eager interest and unquenchable zest in spiritual experience. It may be described in a line from the Bible, "In Him we live and move and have our being." When a person really finds God, he finds life that is perpetually interesting and exciting.

Mrs. L. C. Moffett of Salem was a recent visitor of Mrs. Lauda Dibble and Mrs. Bertha Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Blamer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cox and Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Cox were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallace in East Liverpool.

Ladies Aid of the M.E. Church met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Grace Conn with 13 members and three visitors present. President, Mrs. Bertha Clark had devotionals and Mrs. Eleanor Blamer had charge of contests won by Mrs. Elizabeth Hole and Mrs. Nora Roach. Mrs. Lauda Dibble will entertain in August.

East Goshen

Sewing for the Friends Rescue Home in Columbus occupied the time when the Elsie Matti Missionary Auxiliary of the East Goshen Friends Church was entertained by Mrs. Ralph Lockhart Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Floyd Phillips, in charge of the program, introduced Mrs. Howard Moore, who with her husband Rev. Moore and children will leave soon for Formosa as missionaries.

Mrs. Moore told of their preparations for the trip, and about the climate and vegetation of Formosa. Mrs. Lockhart served lunch.

The next meeting of the group will be a picnic with the Joyce Bryner Missionary group Aug. 18 at Centennial Park.

I SHOT AN ARROW...

In the flight of an arrow this young lady glimpses something of the question mark that is life. She compared herself to the arrow, trembling and plunging toward the earth... falling at some distant, unknown point. She thinks of the childhood poem she once learned, "I shot an arrow into the air... it fell to earth, I know not where."

Until she discovered the Church, thoughts like these troubled her. But in the Church she found the answer, a secure knowledge that her flight of life will be guided by a higher power to a perfect destination.

Like this girl, everyone has flights of fancy. We dream of, plan for, and have misgivings about the future. That is why we must discover the Church and its teachings, for under its influence, our destiny will become sure, and our future will take on a new meaning.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Final Act

There is an unavoidable likeness between the end of a Congress and the last act of a play. By one means or another, the stage must be cleared and all the loose ends tied up before the curtain falls.

This leads to confusion both on the stage and in the audience. The players give the appearance of not knowing clearly what they are doing, and the audience finally begins to wonder what it is doing, too.

It is no comfort to be informed, moreover, that this is the way it always is when a Congress is winding up its affairs. A constituent is inclined to mutter that if this is the way it always is, then something should be done about it. Congress stays in session for months on end and marks time, then lets itself get tied in knots at the end of its session. A constituent wonders why. Specifically, he wonders if there may be a method in the madness and if the method may be to force through Congress to do under chronological pressure a lot of things that never could be done without pressure.

These misgivings, themselves, have become part of the end of a congressional session. The truth is, the legislative process is not well adapted to orderliness and neatness, especially when so much depends on compromise. It is part of the nature of man to put off until the last minute what he would rather not do at all. It also is part of his nature not to yield until he has no further hope of victory.

It is impossible to know when the 83rd Congress will pass into limbo, but the probable date is July 31. Whether the event occurs then or a few days later, this is the final scene of the deliberative drama that began at noon, Jan. 3, 1953. If it gets confusing before the final curtain falls, that is the way it always has been. Only in dictatorships is government neat, orderly, systematic and despotic.

Phenix City, For Example

Alabama National Guardsmen sent to Phenix City to take over a local government dominated by the organized vice which is the town's main means of support are in a good spot to understand something which puzzles most Americans.

What is wrong with a little gambling and some of the shadier forms of recreation now and then?

Phenix City has been in the business of offering commercialized vice to the young men who undergo infantry training at Ft. Benning, Ga., across the Chattahoochee River. It has been a big business. Being a big business, it had become an organized business.

The organizer got bigger than the local authorities responsible for keeping things under control. Last June, they felt they were big enough to assassinate the attorney-general-elect of Alabama, who had promised to trim them down to size. Since then, they have been big enough to keep anything from being done about his murder.

That is what is wrong with gambling and some of the shadier forms of commercialized vice. They are enormously profitable. The kind of people capable of preying on the weaknesses of other people for profit are not bound by scruples. When vice becomes organized under their heavy-handed rule it becomes bigger than government. It turns into a reign of terror that is the equivalent of anarchy. It is a problem in government.

Organized vice is also a moral problem, but moral problems must be solved on a personal basis. Problems in government, however, are a collective responsibility. Alabama's National Guardsmen, called out to dissolve a reign of terror, are paying the price for years of neglect in Phenix City.

The Age-Old Solution

We are told that every action eventually produces a reaction. If this is true, then surely the great revival of religious interest in the United States today is the inevitable reaction to the world in which we have been living.

The world in which we have been living is a world of continuous war tension, a casualness toward murder and careless killing, indifference to family responsibility and resultant delinquency, a prevalence of sex crimes, thievery and drug addiction. It's a world infiltrated with the godlessness of Communism.

The reaction to that world is a world in which church membership and attendance have reached an all-time high, religious books are popular best sellers, religious movies set box office records, lay retreats and Bible camps attract hundreds of thousands annually.

We've tried just about everything else in our lifetime — peace pacts, treaties, trade agreements, compromise, negotiation, hot wars, cold wars and appeasement. Perhaps we are ready now to turn, after characteristic reluctance, to that which is the easiest and simplest of all solutions to our problems. Perhaps we are ready now to accept the solution religion offers.

Behind TV Curtain

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Communism Hides Under Blind of Public Ownership

Although not outwardly identifiable as clearly as the socialistic groups that have broken up European parliaments, the Congress of the United States in the session now at its climax is also revealing deep-seated cleavages of an ideological nature.

On the surface, the controversy over whether to tax corporations twice — once when the profits are confiscated at a rate of 52 percent and once when the stockholder gets his dividend and pays a second tax — is supposed to be a contest "between rich and poor."

That's what the demagogues would have the public believe, but actually it is a contest between those who would confiscate the savings of the workingman and those who would stimulate thrift and give private capitalism a much needed stimulus.

Unless investors have incentives for employing their funds as risk capital in American enterprises, the government — the state — must provide the capital. That's the road to state socialism and Hitlerism. Yet the "left wing," which professes such an abhorrence of everything Hitlerlike is behind the drive to prevent the encouragement of private investors.

THE INVESTOR WHO buys bonds pays an income tax on the interest he receives, but he can invest in tax-exempt municipal or state bonds. As for corporate bonds, companies get a deduction for the interest they pay out. In this way the creation of more and more debt has been encouraged, whereas the use of risk capital has been discouraged because the corporations get no deduction for dividend payments — the sums they pay out for the use of capital.

America has been built up by risk capital. The investor in the early years of this country's development took a chance on the success or failure of an enterprise and, if it was successful, he got a reward commensurate with his risk.

In recent years risk capital has been increasingly hard to find for the use of American business. For new enterprises, it has been even harder to get. Most new enterprises have been launched by already existing large companies with fat treasuries—an encouragement to monopoly and a discouragement to competition by smaller companies with inadequate capital.

In contrast to the socialistic trend under the New Deal and the Fair Deal, the Eisenhower administration set out to recognize in the new tax law the basic idea that a dividend payment should have some tax relief for the investor. While the amount is relatively small, the new bill just out of conference does recognize the principle of opposition to double taxation. It will give a lift to American enterprise and mean more jobs for the workers in existing businesses and more businesses that will create new jobs. Yet there are many Democrats and a few Republicans who take a demagogic view and would stifle the incentives that help private enterprise.

THE SAME IDEOLOGICAL prejudice has arisen on the issue of public versus private power. About 30 years ago the American people were told that rivers should be opened to navigation and that whatever by-products in electric power became available would be incidental. Warnings against this deception went unheeded, and now the Tennessee Valley Authority has become a major public-power development. Many taxpayers in the north and west and east are taxed heavily to pay for a local power development that serves only one region. If this principle were applied fairly to other sections of the country where rivers could be used to generate power, it would put the government in the power business on a national scale.

The debate in the Senate this week about atomic power involves the same basic question. If atomic energy is to be solely a government development, then the state will control many business enterprises directly or indirectly. Instead of leaving the facilities to the highest bidders and letting private capital do the job — and surely the government with taxes out of its profits — there are some Republicans and many Democrats who believe in the government-ownership doctrine. They would deny that they want the government to own everything.

THERE ISN'T much difference between putting the government in the power business and putting it into the food-store business or in the management of department stores and other retail enterprises. Then almost everybody would be employed by the government, as in Soviet Russia.

At a time when the budget is strained and taxes are high, there are some members of Congress who want the government to make large outlays for power plants of all kinds.

The Eisenhower administration's view is that private business — which pays taxes on its profits — should have the opportunity to do that work and that the state should get out of private business and stay out.

It would be an interesting issue for the campaign, for, if they fully understood, the American people would promptly reject the doctrines of state socialism which so often have led to paths of Communism and an all-powerful state.

Morse's Unsurpassed Verbosity

By RAYMOND MOLEY

The senatorial colleagues of Wayne Morse probably hold a variety of private opinions of him. Some no doubt regard him as a plain nuisance; others as a dangerous radical; and still others as a useful gadfly.

There must be some, however, who have come to appreciate that they are privileged to sit in the same assembly and to share the same air-conditioned atmosphere with a revival of that prodigy of ancient and medieval times, the pansophist.

The breadth of his outlook and the variety of subjects which he discusses suggest nothing short of omniscience.

To illustrate that fact, even in a fragmentary and incomplete fashion, I have scanned the Index of the Congressional Record for the comparatively short period from May 24th to July 2nd. Further researches would no doubt reveal even more amazing ranges of the Oregon senator's concerns, but this will suffice as a hint.

IN THAT PERIOD Morse caused to be printed at public expense 25 articles, letters, and resolutions by people and organizations outside the Senate. Meanwhile, he introduced five bills and resolutions and eleven amendments to bills before the Senate. It was in the range of his remarks, however, that his true versatility manifested itself.

He presumed to speak on no less than 49 subjects. To paraphrase Bob Ingersoll on Shakespeare, his oceanic mind would touch all the shores of knowledge. Alas, we have no record of his private ruminations, cogitations, and commentaries!

The number of subjects for which Morse interrupted the business of the Senate offers only a faint notion of the time and printed matter which he consumed. In some debates he places speakers in a perpetual posture of yielding for questions—mostly oratorical—and remarks.

My space here does not allow a complete listing of the Morse anthology of learning, because said space is paid for by customers, not taxpayers. A few specimens will suffice.

MORSE DISCUSSED, among many other things, Basque shepherders, Prince George's County, Md., Syracuse University, universal copyright convention, housing, litterbugs, atomic energy, McCarthy hearings, McCarthy, music, "Texas Hill Country Foundation, Jack Alexander, Irwin County, Georgia wire tapping, and Napa County, California. There were many references, of course, to Oppenheimer, to public power, to public lands, the Constitution, Indochina, foreign policy generally, Geneva, and agriculture.

By way of placing the junior senator from Oregon in perspective, let us note some comparisons with a very few of his truly hard-working colleagues. The first is one whose words are few but his services immeasurably constructive, Sen. Cordon, also of Oregon.

He introduced four bills and resolutions and two amendments. He talked on a few subjects mainly in line with his committee work. Cordon cluttered up the record with little printed matter from outside sources. Sen. Byrd is known as the nation as an indefatigably busy senator. But he placed only eight articles from outside sources in the Record, introduced two bills, one amendment, two resolutions, and made remarks on 11 subjects.

SEN. DIRKSEN is no silent man, but he fell far behind the matchless Morse. He spoke on only six subjects. Dirksen's colleague from Illinois has a propensity for debate and, I might add, very often for useful purposes. But his record is numerically mediocre by Morse standards. He inserted 10 printed pieces, introduced 15 bills, resolutions, and amendments, and spoke on 25 subjects.

Some years ago, I wrote in one of these articles of the extraordinary silence of Margaret Chase Smith of Maine during her first year in the Senate. I compared her favorably with some of the men to show that women were not necessarily great talkers. I added that perhaps she was waiting to have the last word.

However, when that time comes, I fear that if the junior senator from Oregon is still there, he will interrupt her valedictory with a request that she yield for a question.

Syngman Rhee Returns

By RAY FALK

TOKYO When Korean President Syngman Rhee mounts the steps of the White House next Monday, he will be bringing a long list of complaints and demands for President Eisenhower.

The fiery little Korean wants to add another 15 divisions to his 20 division ROK army but the U.S. Far East Command feels the ROK's have just about reached their maximum strength.

South Korea, with a population of 20 million is scraping the bottom of the eligible manpower pool. Further, Rhee's 20 divisions are equipped from head to toe with American equipment. Not only is Korea not financially able to outfit its own army, but the U.S. is indirectly paying for its upkeep.

It costs almost as much to put a Korean division into the field as to build up an American division, U.S. officers say. Money-wise the U.S. would save little.

From a long range point of view, the generals argue, a Korean division would have limited use in American strategy. Such a division can fight in Korea, it might fight in some other sector of Asia but there is no sense sending it to Europe.

At the same time, Washington is giving serious consideration to a suggested plan that at least one, and perhaps two, divisions be withdrawn from Korea and redeployed in Japan or on Okinawa.

RHEE DOESN'T LIKE this one bit. He wants unification of Korea. That just isn't in the cards, in the opinion of the best informed American government officials in Tokyo. There are no indications that the Communists will reopen hostilities in Korea and the Pentagon is not about to send the Eighth Army to the Yalu River.

The Korean president and his henchmen have often threatened to march north by themselves.

So They Say

I will not be a party to any treaty (in Indo-China) that makes any body a slave; now that is all there is to it. — President Eisenhower.

The American people want no appeasement of Communists. The American people will refuse to support the United Nations if Red China becomes a member.—Senate Minority Leader Lyndon Johnson.

The possibilities of the (Italian) government controlling its own internal difficulties are much better than they were a year ago.—Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, U.S. Ambassador to Italy.

We will respect the internal affairs of the Central American countries and we will follow an inter-American policy. Our government will maintain diplomatic relations with those countries that sustain the same principles we believe in.—President Carlos Armas of Guatemala's ruling junta.

Thoughts For Today

Fear and a snare is come upon us, desolation and destruction. — Lamentations 3:47.

In morals, what begins in fear usually ends in wickedness; in religion, what begins in fear usually ends in fanaticism. Fear, either as a principle or a motive, is the beginning of all evil. — Mrs. Jameson.

Although iron was once used exclusively for the cores of electromagnets, silicon steel now is widely used.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Medal For A Minstrel

You can't get much on the gold medal which President Eisenhower has been authorized by Congress to strike off in honor of Irving Berlin. So to accompany it we propose the following:

To a weaver of spells, a builder of dreams and a singer of songs of love and patriotism. To a man who symbolizes the American tradition of triumph over poverty. To a guy who could bring great tunes from the depths of personal struggle and anguish. To a kid whose heart tinkled an accompaniment to the psalms of eternal happiness, even in the bleakness of a ghetto, a teeming street and the darkest of alleys.

To an O. Henry of the piano, a Keats of the music sheets and a Francis Scott Key of our critical hours. To an Aesop of Tin Pan Alley and a Hans Christian Andersen of the black and white keys.

To a living refutation of those cynics who blame "underprivilege" for failure and airily charge the slums, overburdened parents and bad breaks for the uncaught vision, the faint-hearted pursuit of a cherished goal and the incapacity to reach for the stars.

To a child of immigrants, who in the squalor of the East Side found the virtues of the poet, the minstrel and the companion of lovers everywhere.

To a Broadway tyro who began with the frivolous "Marie of Sunny Italy," "Yiddle on the Fiddle," "Sadie Salome, Go Home" and "Everybody's Doing It," and soared to the tender beauty of "All Alone By the Telephone," "They Say That Falling in Love is Wonderful," "A Pretty Girl is Like a Melody" and "When I Lost You."

To a spirit that could climb from "Dorando," a comedy number about an Italian Marathon runner, to "Dancing Cheek to Cheek" and "Always." To a heartbeat that could attune.

To a member of the Jewish faith who could contribute "White Christmas" as one of the most heartwarming Christian songs of Yuletide. To a man whose tunes and lyrics came to be wafted across the still waters and the green pasture of the earth to add to the spell of moonlight nights, boy-meets-girl moods of youth and reveries of the middle aged and the old.

To a composer who began with the capricious "My Brudder Sylvest" and worked up to the great and moving melodies of American life . . . to a fellow who, while men in high position quibbled over prayer and the proper expression of patriotism in the public schools, gave both a prayer and a national anthem in "God Bless America" to the kids of the country.

To one who made people sing, dance and dream in a world where so many men contribute to hatred, envy, dissension and death . . . to a tunesmith who could bring a "Darling, do you remember that one?" to halt an interlude of anger and bitterness in a disturbed home, and set a quarreling couple to humming a song they knew as young lovers.

To a man whose melodies have lightened the heart of the toiler, cheered the imprisoned and brought from the sick the whisper "Play me that one again." . . . To a guy who, as a singing waiter in a Bowery bar, could look hardship "In the kisser" and make it dance to his sense of rhythm.

To Irving Berlin, poet, minstrel, patriot and fine citizen any way you look at him . . . or listen!

Old car derbies are a fad and we have read of one in New Jersey in which the exhibits include a Ford, a Nash, a Franklin, a LaSalle and a Pierce-Arrow. Who remembers the Apperson Jackrabbit, the Stutz Bearcat, the Rambler, the Pope-Hartford, the Stoddard-Dayton, the Maxwell, the Elmore and the Peerless? The Haynes, King, Grant Cole, Simplex, Locomobile, Hupp, Marmon, Knox, White, Stanley Steamer and Emerson?

The thrill of our boyhood was a Stoddard-Dayton which had an isinglass windshield which we rolled up or down, as weather demanded, presto-like tanks and a motor which had to be primed before cranking.

Miss Donna Kiplinger Becomes Bride Of William G. Althouse

Attired in a lovely costume created of Chantilly lace over white taffeta, Miss Donna Kiplinger became the bride of William Glenn Althouse Friday at 8 p.m., in the First Friends Church.

The bride is a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Stephen Kiplinger of Beloit, Mo. Althouse is the son of Mrs. Helen Althouse of the New Garden Rd., and the late Elmer Althouse.

Rev. Kenneth Pickering, pastor of the Winchester, Ind., First Friends Church, heard the exchange of vows in the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Harry Marshall of Cleveland, the former Virginia Krauss of Salem, played the pre-nuptial organ melodies and also accompanied Eugene Collins of Danville, Va., who sang "Always," and "Through the Years." Stephen Kiplinger, Jr., brother-in-law of the bride, sang "Seal Us O Holy Spirit" as the couple knelt at the altar.

Four ushers seated a large company of relatives and friends. They included Earl Althouse, brother of the groom; A. W. Langley of Greensboro, N.C., college roommate of Eugene Collins; John Brantingham of Winona and Clyde Sell of Lisbon. Charming simplicity characterized the altar decorations of greenery which were centered with a large basket of white gladioli and lighted by candles in tall seven-branch candelabra.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. Styled with a standup collar, a V-shaped neckline, her bridal gown had long sleeves pointed at the wrists. The fitted bodice was double-pointed in front and trimmed with buttons of the same material up the back. The floor-length skirt was scalloped around the bottom and had fan-shaped train. Her finger-tip veil was caught in a fitted lace hat. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis showered with ivy and ribbon.

Miss Dorothy Stratton of Knightstown, Ind., maid of honor, appeared in an attractive peach-colored net dress over a fitted bodice with a short cape over a fitted bodice attached to a ballerina-length skirt. Her cascade type bouquet was formed of gladioli and roses.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Pass of Cleveland, a college roommate of the bride; Miss Joyce Roessler of Cleveland and Miss Lois Althouse, sister of the groom. All the attendants dresses were styled identically. Mrs. Pass was in blue, while Miss Roessler and Miss Althouse wore yellow and mint green, respectively. They carried cascade bouquets of gladioli and roses in colors to match their dresses.

The flower girl was Mary Evelyn Kiplinger, small sister of the bride. Her white frock was made of taffeta and Chantilly lace. She carried a small bouquet of roses and gladioli.

Homer Althouse was his brother's best man.

Mrs. Kiplinger was costumed in pink and gold embroidered nylon. Mrs. Althouse chose an aqua lace dress for her son's wedding. Both mothers completed their dresses with white accessories and corsages of tea roses. Mrs. Emer Tolson was wedding hostess.

A reception for more than 200 guests was held in the church annex. A four-tiered wedding cake topped with an ornament and summer flowers centered the beautifully appointed buffet table. Flower and ivy were entwined around the cake, which was flanked with white candles in crystal two-branch candelabra.

Assisting Mrs. Tolson were Miss Joan Althouse, cousin of the groom; Miss Ruth Rittenhouse of Adrian, Mich.; Miss Lois Flint of Winona and Miss Barbara Tolson of Salem. Some of the guests came from Salamanca, N.Y., Knightstown, Urbana and Cleveland.

A graduate of Goshen Union High School, the new Mrs. Althouse attended Cleveland Bible College and is a talented musician. Mr. Althouse was graduated from Salem High School. A senior at Cleveland Bible College, he is a ministerial student. The couple will reside at the groom's home this summer and in September will go to Cleveland to live.

The bride's going away dress was white nylon trimmed in red. Her accessories were also white. The couple will spend their honeymoon at Cook's Forest, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren W. McCuskey and their two sons of Madison, Wis., moved to 380 W. Pine St., Wednesday. Mr. McCuskey, a World War II marine veteran, is district representative for the Edward Weck and Co. surgical supplies, of New York.

Al Smith Drives In 5 Runs As Indians Whip Yankees 8-2

Larry Doby Adds Two Home Runs

Don Mossi To Oppose Allie Reynolds Today

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (U) — If Cleveland beats out the New York Yankees for the pennant, a man named Al Smith could be the reason.

The 26-year-old Negro outfielder from Kirkwood, Mo., drove in five runs in last night's 8-2 Cleveland romp over the Yankees with a three-run homer and a two-run single. His third-inning double didn't do anything but boost his average.

Earlier in the year, Smith hit a home run off Johnny Sain that climaxed a long uphill struggle by the Tribe after the Yanks had taken a big early lead.

Reporters asked Manager Al Lopez what he thought was the biggest improvement in the 1954 Tribe over the clubs that ran second in the last three years.

"I'd say Smith was our biggest single improvement," he said. "He's a real good ball player, now. Smith and our secondary pitching from fellows like Art Houtteman, Hal Newhouse, Bob Feller and Ray Narleski."

The score was tied 2-2 with two men on when Smith drove one of Eddie Lopat's pitches deep into the lower left field seats in the seventh inning. He didn't even know what he hit.

"He throws one on the outside, another on the inside and then gives you a slider or a screwball," Smith said.

"If I live to be 75, I'll never understand how he does it. You watch him warm up and he looks like a batting practice pitcher. But he's tough. They can call him junk man, but he knows what he's doing all the time."

Casey Stengel, Yankee manager, also was mystified by Lopat. But for another reason. He couldn't understand how he lost his stuff so suddenly in the seventh. It was his eighth straight failure to go the route.

"Another one down the drain," said Stengel. "If you don't get the pitching you can't beat the top clubs. What makes it extra tough is getting 14 hits and still getting beat."

In the Cleveland clubhouse, the victory was taken in stride. No back slapping. No cheers. Just a few handshakes.

Funny thing, nobody said a word about the way Cleveland used to fold in Yankee Stadium. The only club the crowd of 61,446 paid (tops in the majors in '54) saw fold was the Yankees.

Early Wynn got credit for yesterday's victory, although the Yanks rapped him for 14 hits—two more than the Tribe collected. Wynn managed to leave a dozen stranded, and the Indians had only five left on base. The triumph made Wynn the first Cleveland hurler this season to win 13. He has lost five.

Although Smith's hitting was the big offensive factor, Larry Doby made the Indians' first run with a homer in the sixth and clouted another, his 19th, to lead off the eighth.

Successive singles by Vic Wertz, Dave Pailey and George Strickland scored a Tribe run that tied the score at 2-2 in the seventh.

Irv Noren singled home the Yanks' two runs in the fourth after singles by Gene Woodling and Andy Carey and an intentional pass to pinch hitter Enos Slaughter had loaded the bases.

Today southpaw Don Mossi will go for Cleveland against Allie Reynolds (10-1). Mossi, who has four victories and one loss, will be the first Tribe rookie to start against the champs since Mike Garcia did it five years ago.

Washingtonville Cops Third Straight, 4-1

The Washingtonville Boosters won their third consecutive game in Austintown Colt League play last night at Washingtonville, tripping Youngstown Gallagher and O'horo 4-1.

Jim Campbell again was the winning pitcher, limiting Youngstown to only three hits while striking out 12 batters. Red Bell was the batting star, driving out two hits including a big two-run double in the first inning to highlight the game-tally rally which clinched the game.

Only two umpires officiated in the World Series from 1903 to 1908. Then two more arbiters were added. Now six take the field for the post-season classic.

The first steeplechase race in the United States was in 1834 at the Washington, D.C., Jockey Club Park.

Sloppy Fielding Mars Softball Play Friday

Apparently suffering a post All-Star game letdown, the city softball leagues staged one of their worst fielding displays of the season last night with 33 errors charged in three games.

In girls action, Homeworth defeated the Amvets 15-7 and Georgetown smashed Beloit 17-8 and, in "A" play, Electric Furnace tripped the Old Timers 7-2.

The winners scored in every inning, including a 10-run fifth frame. Georgetown had 13 hits and was aided by 14 Beloit errors. Georgetown had one misplay.

Doris Schneider was the winning pitcher relieving Butch in the first inning. Schneider struck out five and gave up five hits in her tenure on the mound.

G. Odey walloped a double and a triple for the only extra-base hits of the game McBride had three and C. Odey two hits for Georgetown.

Homeworth 15 Amvets 7
In a sluggers' battle, Homeworth won its second game of the season. Five homers were pounded, two each by Dyle of Homeworth and Janet Reeder of Amvets and one by Kay Lutsch, McQuilken of Homeworth registered a double and a triple.

Homeworth scored in every inning although they were trailing 7-4 until a six-run third frame iced the game. I. Struffler was the winning pitcher.

A total of 14 errors was committed in the tilt.

Electric Furnace 7, Old Timers 2
In the only game of the night that showed fielding skill, Marshall Sutherland, aided by superb support, hurled Furnace to its win.

Although four errors were charged, Furnace got a big lift from two beautiful catches in the outfield and generally fine infield play.

Lee McCluggage batted out three singles and Mruce Feight had two for Furnace. Sutherland pitched a five-hitter as Furnace led from the third inning on.

FRIDAY'S STARS
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pitching — Bob Buhl, Milwaukee Braves, held the New York Giants to eight hits as the Braves nipped the Giants 3-2.

Batting — Al Smith, Cleveland Indians, hit a three-run homer with the score tied in the seventh inning to spark the Indians to an 8-2 victory over the New York Yankees.

The largest sports arena in the world is the Municipal Stadium at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. The stadium has a seating capacity of 155,000.

Pony Loop 'Stars Romp Over Tiltonsville 23-2

District Titlists Play Tuesday In Youngstown

Unleashing a tremendous barrage of 20 hits, the Salem Pony League All-Stars roared to the District Championship by overwhelming hapless Tiltonsville 23-2 Friday evening at East Liverpool pool Friday evening at East Liverpool pool Friday evening at East Liverpool pool.

Salem just was not to be denied.

Scoring in every inning but one, the locals won the game in the very first inning with a seven-run outburst. It marked their third straight triumph in area 8 playoff action this week.

Thus, Salem now advances into regional play. Their next game will be Tuesday evening at 6 p. m. at Stambaugh Field against an opponent yet to be announced. If they win Tuesday, the 'Stars will return to Canton, where they started their title bid Monday, to vie for the Regional crown.

Jerry Hendricks was the batting star of the game, blasting two home runs and another hit in three trips. Darryl Adams also belted a round-tripper and two other safeties in five trips.

In addition, Richard Beall lashed out four hits in five trips and Hayes Covert added three for four.

Covert started on the mound for Salem, giving up just two hits and striking out eight. Bob Stallsmith, sparkplug of last year's Salem Little League District Championship outfit, hurled the last three innings and struck out three men and allowed four hits and one run.

The game was called at the end of six innings by managers' agreement.

Pete Saunders manages the Pony League All-Stars aided by coaches Warren Riessen, Paul Stallsmith and Henry Meissner. Saunders said this morning that he was pleased to see so many Salem fans at Liverpool last night and hoped that a larger delegation would be on hand in Youngstown Tuesday.

Golf Tourney, Polo Tilt, Yacht Race On Tap For Weekend

For the second consecutive week the sporting schedule for this area over the forthcoming weekend is slim in light of this being the heart of the summer season.

The Salem Golf Club hits one of the high points of its season Sunday with the gala Calcutta Tournament. With the auction and bidding held last week, 36 teams will tee off starting at 12 noon Sunday in the playoffs.

Village Takes Steps To Form Ground Observer Corps

COLUMBIANA—Steps were taken toward forming a ground observer corps in Columbiana at a meeting of the civil defense organization in city hall Thursday evening. A membership of 168 will have to be recruited to man the post continuously 24 hours a day, seven days a week, members to work in pairs, each person to give two hours a week. No location of the post will be decided until the complement of observers has been obtained.

Mrs. Laura Hamilton, 547 N. Main St., Mrs. Lloyd Wonseller, Salem Road, and Mrs. Raymond Cole, County Line Road, were appointed to enlist recruits. Meetings will be held in city hall at 8 p.m. every Thursday, for the present, until a ground observer corps is organized.

Present at the meeting this week attended by about 40, were Ray Neidergard, ground observer chief of Columbiana county, Don Elliott, Columbiana county supervisor of civil defense, and George Seederly, Columbiana civil defense director. Neidergard, in charge of the posts at Calcutta and East Liverpool, spoke on the ground observer phase of defense. Observer posts in this area are tributary to the Canton filter center.

The defense meeting Thursday evening had a practical demonstration of what can be expected. It received eight calls from people who feared a shower of H bombs from weather balloons in the sky.

The tour of historic spots in and around Columbiana by the Historical Society of Columbiana and Fairfield Township which had to be postponed two weeks ago, is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, to leave Grace church corner at 2. All persons interested are invited, says Miss Leila Beard, president of the society. Transportation will be available. Mrs. Allan White is program

IKE REPORTS SPENDING CUT—Newschart above illustrates President Eisenhower's report that he had cut about $10,300,000,000 from former President Truman's federal spending budget for fiscal 1954, which ended June 30. Even so, the Treasury wound up with a deficit of $3,029,000,000 for the 12-month period.

chairman for the tour and will present a speaker at each spot visited. Herbert Nolan will speak at the site of the spring on N. Vine St., used by Joshua Dixon, one of the earliest settlers, who laid out the town in 1805; Mrs. George Seederly and Edward Lammoncha at the site of the home of Dixon's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hanna, and W. E. Stewart, historian, at the site of the first court held in Columbiana county, southeast of town, on Route 7.

The tour will end at Firestone Farms, where R. E. Hapgood of the Firestone organization in Akron will give a history of the family homestead and show the tourists through the house.

The Junior American Legion invitational baseball tournament, with eight teams entered, is scheduled to begin today, with double headers at 1:15 and 3:30 this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon. Playoffs are planned to continue every evening next week, with the finals the following Sunday, August 1. All games will be at Firestone Park.

Warren-East Liverpool and East Palestine-Wampum games are scheduled for this afternoon, and Columbiana-Toronto and Cadiz-Midland games for tomorrow afternoon.

SIXTEEN MEMBERS of the Columbiana Garden Club enjoyed a sack lunch in Firestone Park, Tuesday noon, and after a short business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. William Knotts, they gathered material for drying.

Columbiana and Mahoning county sheep men will have a meeting at the farm of Homer Royer, Columbiana-Middleton Road at 7 p.m. Monday, when Robert Peebles, president of the Pennsylvania Wool Growers' Cooperative association, will give a wool grading demonstration.

Junior high week will be observed at the camp of Mahoning Presbytery on Beaver creek, near Calcutta, next week. Young people from Columbiana Presbytery church to attend are Barbara Davis, Joyce Cox, William Ann and Gloria Adcock.

Cities Request To Give Ideas On 2nd Pike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—City planners in areas which may be affected by the proposed Cincinnati-to-Conneaut super toll road want the Ohio Turnpike Commission and the state highway department to listen to their suggestions.

Cleveland, Cincinnati, Dayton, Columbus and Akron were represented at a meeting here, called at the request of H. S. Wagner, a member of the Summit County Planning Commission and director of the Akron Metropolitan Park System.

Proctor Noyes, director of the Cuyahoga County Regional Planning Commission, presided. An attitude prevailed at the session which seemed to indicate the Ohio Turnpike Commission may run into some difficulties in building the turnpike if it does not seek the advice and help of local planners.

The planners were seeking ways to make themselves heard on the matter of the state's second super toll road, James Lister, director of the Cleveland Planning Commission, said.

"On the No. 1 turnpike (the northern Ohio Turnpike) we were not allowed to talk to anyone until it was too late. I have a suspicion the same thing will happen on turnpike No. 2."

"We don't want to tell them where to locate the turnpike. We want to offer our advice; we can be of tremendous assistance to them."

The state highway department has cancelled a series of meetings next week with local authorities to discuss the proposed location of the second turnpike. Highway Director S. O. Linzell said the firm plotting a mile-wide strip diagonally across Ohio will not have the proposed location strip finished for several more weeks.

Cities Told To Act To Conserve Water

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—The Ohio Division of Water today warned municipalities to take immediate inventory of their source of water supplies and, if necessary, invoke water conservation measures.

The division predicted ground water supplies and stream flow in the state will be at a record low level by late summer.

The division said during the seven months, October 1953 through April 1954, rainfall was 4.32 inches below normal, and as a result there was far less recharge to ground water than is normally expected.

Ohio has passed the period when any ground water recharge can be expected, the division added, saying that from now until fall both ground water levels and stream flow can be expected to decline.

Municipalities with surface water supplies from reservoirs were warned that stream flow into reservoirs will be at near record low so they may expect the greater proportion of daily consumption will come from storage.

Reservoirs may be full now, the division said, but unless the storage is enough to make up for the deficiency in stream flow there may not be water enough to meet the anticipated demands of the next few months.

Municipalities were urged to institute water savings measure now and plan for supplemental supplies before a crisis arises.

TAX REVENUE DISAPPOINTS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—On the basis of nine month collections, State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy estimates Ohio's new axle tax on trucks will yield in its first year only about 56 per cent of the amount anticipated by its sponsors. With $7,926,003 in the till from the tax at the end of the third quarter of collections, Tracy estimated the 12-month total will be between $10,500,000 and $10,900,000. Sponsors predicted the tax would produce some $19,600,000 per year.

Skin Diver Camps 24 Hours On Ocean Floor For New Record

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Skin diver Ed Fisher holds the world endurance record for camping on the ocean floor 24 hours 2 minutes.

He was still a bit tired today from the unusual underwater experience, but apparently suffered no lasting ill effects.

The lanky 26-year-old, a native of New York, said he did not intend to repeat the experiment in the near future. But he and his surface associates were jubilant over the outcome.

Fisher popped to the surface at 3:10 p.m. EST yesterday after spending a trifle more than 24 hours on the floor of a coral reef canyon 30 feet below the sea off Key Largo.

His skin was blue and wrinkled like a prune. His head and stomach ached and he drank lots of water.

There was a time earlier in the day when he thought he wouldn't make it. During the night hours the water sapped his body warmth and he felt cold and sick.

"Don't think I can stay down more than another hour," he told companions in boats above him in a message written with a grease pencil on slate. But the sun soon warmed him up and he stuck it out, otuit.

Fisher began his free dive at 3:08 p.m. Thursday and had no direct connection with the air world above him. He hung his camping equipment on coral pinacles and pushed friendly fish aside.

Once a shark, described by Fisher's companions as "half as big as a submarine," swam slowly overhead, eyed the strange goings on in his domain curiously, then went his way.

Fisher drank soup, ate candy, and for breakfast shot a fish with his water spear gun, sliced it and chewed it raw.

The endurance dive was to test a "Div-Air," a newly designed underwater breathing apparatus similar to the French aqualung. A face mask covered Fisher's eyes and nose but left his mouth free. Fisher breathed air from a tank on his back through a tube in his mouth. He removed the mouth-piece long enough to swallow a morsel of food or sip water or soup from a bottle. The food and fresh tanks of air were brought down to him by associates.

tax and then brought up a discrepancy between figures quoted at Tuesday's meeting and last night's session.

"At last council meeting, we were told that the assessment would be 80 cents on a $1,000. Now we are told it will be a $1.00."

In rebuttal, Democratic Councilman Charles Edwards stated that the Democrats looked upon the 35 per cent tax as a stop-gap measure and that because of the special rate industry had to be given with the 65 per cent tax, the difference in the income between the two wasn't too much.

The second part of Linder's charge was answered by Council President James Aldom who criticized City Solicitor Walter J. Hunston.

"I find in the city of Salem, in City Hall, there isn't one man who is qualified to put over a bond issue of this type. The County Auditor figured it at 80 cents on a $1,000. I certainly didn't question his figures."

Solicitor Commended

"In preparing the papers for the resolution he (Hunston) should have noticed that it read six per cent instead of four. He should have known that the city is in the habit of paying three or four per cent. But since the measure passed as six per cent, we have to go through with it."

Hunston retorted that he had asked that proposed legislation that he was to prepare to be sent to his office in writing, but because of the pressure that has been on council in the last two weeks he had been lenient with the ruling, but said, "When it comes to a situation like this, I think my kindness to this group has been kicked in the face."

"I am not a financial expert. It is the job of the committees of council to go over legislation." Democratic Councilman Louis Colian asked for a vote of confidence for Hunston stating that he thought the City Solicitor has done a wonderful job in the past couple of months. Hanna seconded the move.

Boy, 10, Has Polio; Condition Is Good

John Strain, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Strain of Trimble St., who became ill Monday, has a light case of polio, as diagnosed Tuesday by the family doctor.

While confined to his bed, the boy's condition is described as good.

Richard, six-year-old twin son of the Strains, recovered from a mild case of polio last fall.

Scientists Told Chemicals May Cause Cancer

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Some dyes or other chemicals added to our foods might cause certain forms of cancer, a British scientist today told representatives of 54 nations here to study ways of fighting the scourge.

Dr. Eric Boyland, biochemist of London University, told the Sixth International Cancer Congress that numerous chemicals put in foods deserve a closer look for possible cancer effects.

It is a tough problem, Boyland said, to tell whether such chemicals cause cancer. He said a dye known as "butter yellow" formerly was used to color oleomargarine but was abandoned when it was found capable of causing cancer in experimental animals. A green dye used in canning peas also was found capable of causing the disease in laboratory animals.

Boyland said two solutions have been suggested. One is to avoid adding any chemicals to foodstuffs. The other is to test each one first in the laboratory. But such tests could cost about $10.00 each and take a long time, he added.

He said the discovery that some chemical products produce cancer in animals doesn't necessarily mean they would do the same in humans. He added, however, that some cases of stomach, liver or bladder cancer might be caused by chemicals in foods.

Officer Freed Of Punishment Charge

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP)—A combat-tested infantry officer today stood vindicated of charges he permitted trainees of his command to be held at ramrod-straight attention for nearly an hour in 92-degree heat.

A special court-martial board of eight fellow officers cleared Lt. Robert S. Morgan of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., of the allegation yesterday after he denied having had anything to do with the June 21 incident.

Mahoning Grangers Choose King, Queen

Charles Janosik of Greenford Grange and Mary Jean Kunder of North Lima Grange were chosen prince and princess of the Mahoning county granges Friday night at Goshen Grange Hall. Bill Clemons of Dublin Grange and Mary Miskimins of Goshen were chosen as alternates. The event took place following a "mystery ride" of all granges participating. Mary Miskimins and Don Capel, youth chairmen of Goshen Grange were in charge of arrangements.

When the grangers met after the ride, they enjoyed a wienner roast. Ring games were played in the hall, and after that the prince and princess were chosen, square dancing afforded entertainment. Goshen Grange will meet Friday, Aug. 6 in the hall.

8 Notaries Public Pass Examinations

LISBON—Eight Notaries Public passed examinations given Friday at the Columbiana County courthouse.

Appointed were: Lorna B. Hamilton of Salem; Anne R. Lower, Alice Penny and Thirza G. Bailey, all of Lisbon; Ethelene M. Matyiku of Columbiana; Peter Casper of New Waterford and William F. Long and John T. Joseph, both of Wellsville.

FINED $100 AT LISBON

LISBON—Robert O. Huffman, 26, of Lisbon RD 5, charged with driving while intoxicated, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 3 days in jail Friday by Mayor Wilbur Warren. Huffman was arrested Friday on E. Lincoln Way by Patrolman John Varner.

McCarthy Won't Ask Defense Dept. To Okay Aides Anymore

WASHINGTON (AP)—An angry Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today he will no longer ask the Pentagon to okay any of his aides for access to secret information.

McCarthy's declaration came on the heels of a new Defense Department refusal to clear Thomas W. LaVenia, a McCarthy appointee on the Senate Investigations subcommittee staff, for access to classified documents, or to explain its reasons for withholding clearance.

And LaVenia, telling his side of the story to his Senate bosses, reported he believes his Pentagon turnaround stems from FBI reports about a Secret Service role he played in 1943 in investigating an alleged plot against President Franklin D. Roosevelt. He thinks he performed a "playboy" role so well it was misunderstood by investigators.

LaVenia and one other are the only two subcommittee staff members said to have been refused clearance after it was asked of the Defense Department. The other, Donald A. Surine, was switched by Chairman McCarthy from the subcommittee to the senator's own office payroll.

But after the new Pentagon turnaround on LaVenia, McCarthy told newsmen today: "I don't intend to ask for any clearance from the Defense Department for anyone else."

LaVenia said he told the subcommittee that he was once selected by the Secret Service, which operates under the Treasury Department, to "act as a playboy and man about town." He said this was a part of an investigation of a reported plot against the security of Roosevelt.

"My guess is that the FBI went up there (to Hyde Park, N. Y., Roosevelt's home) and heard reports that LaVenia was a playboy, and put some of the details in a report as was their duty, and this is now being held against me," LaVenia said.

However LaVenia said he had a letter from Frank J. Wilson, former Secret Service chief, to back up his story and that he gave the letter to the subcommittee.

ful girls from all over the world all I could do was hope."

The runners-up took defeat smilingly, especially Miss Rocha, who had been widely considered the favorite to win. Heretofore the pageant has produced two winners—Miss U.S.A. and Miss Universe.

Miss Stevenson has blue eyes blond hair, stands 5 feet 6 and weighs 120. She measures 36 inches at the bust and hips and 24 inches at the waist.

In the movies she would be considered the wholesome, all-American girl type — healthy, handsome and happy. She says she has no steady boy friend.

Miss Universe said her senior year at Lander College in Greenwood, S.C., will have to wait a while because:

"I want to take a crack at this actin' business."

The Miss Universe and Miss U.S.A. crowns carry with them almost identical sets of prizes. Each set includes $4,000 convertible, a 3-week contract at movie studio and about a half dozen pieces of jewelry.

Whether Miss Stevenson will receive both sets is uncertain. Judges meet today to decide. One official said he thought one car might go to Miss Brazil as first runner-up and there was speculation she might receive other prizes as well.

Wheat

farmer can plant in 1955 will be the toughest ever.

Growers supporting controls cast 73.3 per cent of the vote in yesterday's referendum, the Agriculture Department calculated early today. Since a favorable vote of 66.7 per cent was needed to continue controls, the margin was thin indeed — much thinner than was expected from advance indications.

Some 267,000 farmers voted — a light turnout. Nearly a million were eligible by virtue of planting more than 15 acres of wheat. The outcome was in doubt until North Dakota came in with a whopping majority of "yes" votes — 46,206 to 2,073.

Had controls been rejected, the support price of wheat would have dropped to 50 per cent of parity—the standard said by law to give farmers a fair return for their produce compared with their production costs. But farmers would have been able to grow as much wheat as they wished.

The "yes" vote means high supports but stricter-than-usual controls on what farmers can plant.

The referendum was held under a law which provides for rigid acreage controls whenever the supply of wheat on hand is above "normal."

It was the smallest "yes" percentage ever rolled up in a wheat program referendum and compares with 87.2 per cent favorable last year, 82.4 per cent in 1942 and 8 per cent in 1941.

The unofficial totals — complete, official figures won't be available for three or four weeks — show that 195,801 farmers voted for the control program and 71,503 against. One year ago the vote was 390,221 "yes" and 57,221 "no."
